The presentation introduces the TERENA Project Directory Schema Registry, an LDAP-based repository for LDAP schema, namely definitions and documentations of object classes, attribute types, syntaxes, etc. and will give an overview on the concept for the registry, its architecture, its policy and the current state of implementation. It also discusses possible further broadening of the registry's scope, e.g., in the direction of XMLS and RDFS.