

In this presentation an update is given on the status of videoconferencing services in the European NRENs. Furthermore an overview of international activities in this area, including international/worldwide services, video-middleware research and dial plans are presented.