

One of the paradigms of IT development at the beginning of the 21st century is "ALL OPTICAL NETWORKS". This article describes the concept and stage-by-stage process of building a national optical network, based on the PIONIER (Polish Optical Internet - Advanced Applications, Services and Technologies for Information Society) programme.