

This presentation will discuss current problems in the area of linking of electronic scientific works accessible on the Internet, as an attempt to find a possible solution for the creation of the Croatian and global interlinked scientific library.