

The speaker will describe, in detail, the concept of the Croatian Scientific Bibliography (CROSBI), highlighting specific characteristics of the method of recording scientific output and discussing the advantages and disadvantages of such an approach. The speaker will analyse the role of libraries in providing better communication between scientists.