A-Select is authentication middleware for web applications. A-Select integrates with well-known webservers such as Apache and IIS and supports a variety of authentication methods such as LDAP, RADIUS, SMS, and the banking card. This presentation briefly describes the architecture and first-use cases of A-select.