The first part of the presentation introduces the background and theory of the inter-organisation public roaming (e.g. WLAN) based on captive portals and hierarchical AAA servers. The second part presents the current state of public access roaming in the FUNET network and discusses about requirements, problems and solutions related to this kind of roaming architecture.