

Yuri Izhvanov is a professor and First Deputy Director of the State Institute of Information Technologies and Telecommunications, and in 1999 was the winner of the annual state prize of the Russian Government for the development of RUNNet. <yli@informika.ru>

Yuri Gugel, State Institute of Information Technologies and Telecommunications, Saint-Petersburg branch, Director. RUNNet main administrator and Technical director. 1999 Year Winner of State Prize of Russian Government for the RUNNet development.

Alexander Tikhonov, State Institute of Information Technologies and Telecommunications, Director, professor, former Minister of Education of Russia. 2000 Year Winner of State Prize of Russian Government for the Education development in Russia for design of informational education environment.

Vladimir Vasiliev, State Institute of Fine Mechanics and Optics (Technical University), Rector, Scientific director of RUNNet, professor. 1999 Year Winner of State Prize of Russian Government for the RUNNet development.