

Sandra Passchier is a Communication Manager at SURFnet, the Dutch national research network. She started there six year ago, when SURFnet started setting up its communication department, and was one of the initiators of the SURFnet weekly electronic newsletter. As a Communication Manager Sandra is responsible for the printed and electronic external communication of SURFnet. She was also the initiator of the TERENA PR initiative and will be the chair of TF-PR, which shall be formed this year. The aim of the TERENA Task Force is to promote collaboration between NRNs in Europe in the areas of public relations and information dissemination through activities at PR Manager / Information Officer-level.
