

Maciej Stroinski received the Ph.D. degree in Computer Science from the Technical University of Gdansk in 1987. Currently he is Technical Director of the Poznan Supercomputing and Networking Center. He is also the lecturer at the Institute of Computing Science of the Poznan University of Technology. His research interests concern computer network protocols and management. He is the author and co-author of over 100 papers in major professional journals and conference proceedings. He is also a co-author of the "PIONIER: Polish Optical Internet - Advanced Applications, Services and Technologies for the Information Society" programme, which constitutes the basis for building an information infrastructure for science within the years 2001 - 2005.

He has been honored with the Honorary Badge of the City of Poznan (1979), the Honorary Badge for services to the Development of Poznan Province (1981) and the Golden Cross of Merit (2000). <stroins@man.poznan.pl>