Maarten Koopmans is an innovation manager at SURFnet and manages the A-select infrastructure. He has a background in financial services and several years of experience with all kinds of application middleware. In the past, Maarten has designed and implemented various brokers' and broker-related services. <maarten.koopmans@surfnet.nl>

Ali Odaci (1973) is managing director of Alfa & Ariss. He is one of the architects of A-Select. In the past, he has worked for IBM where he was specialized in smart card technology. Ali co-founded Alfa & Ariss in 1999. Alfa & Ariss is a Dutch company that specializes in security and authentication middleware for the Web and 802.1X networks. Alfa & Ariss has been working for and together with higher education in Holland and abroad since the beginning