

Biography

Roland Staring is a community support manager for SURFnet. In juli 1999 he got his academic degree in Cognitive Artificial Intelligence from the University of Utrecht. Januari 2001, after a job as knowledge manager for Unilever, he started working as an innovation manager for SURFnet on the topic of video streaming and videoconferencing. At the moment his job is to set up new end-user services and build communities of interest around the services.