

BIOGRAPHY

Milan Taradi is a Full Professor of Physiology and Immunology at the University of Zagreb Medical Faculty (UZMF).

He is the author of numerous online educational materials and interactive tools in the field of physiology and immunology (www.mef.hr/~mtaradi/) as well as the main collaborator on the "Interactive Physiology". He developed and teaches a mixed mode course "Interactive educational module of acid-base balance in humans" that was awarded by a "Special mention of the Jury" at CUC2004.

He is the leader of the CARNet's Reference centre for self-assessment and assessment in e-learning (<http://www.carnet.hr/referalni/obrazovni/spzit>).

Prof. Taradi has authored several articles on topics of e-learning and has lectured graduate and postgraduate students about online education and telemedicine.

He is a member of the UZMF e-learning Committee and the IT Committee and in 2001 was appointed to the function of CARNet coordinator for UZMF.